REPUBLICANS PREPARE FOR THEIR BIG RALLY

"Fighting Clans" Gather in Meeting at Local Bank Hall

COUNTY CHAIRMAN HERE

Elaborate Arrangements Being Made---Congressman Matthews Tells Conditions

That the big Republican rally to be held in Charleroi on the evening of October 39 is going to be a material success as well as a rousing manifestation of the strongly growing Republican sentiment that is sweeping the Monongahela valley, was assured by the enthusiastic meeting of Republicans who assembled at the Bank of Charleroi Hall Friday evening in order to discuss ways and means and learn of the sentiment of the adjacent districts. Everything is working smoothly, and all that is required is adequate transportation facilities to bring in one of the largest crowds that ever assembled in Charleroi.

It was a typical gathering of the fighting clans. County Chairman C. E. Carothers had notified the members of the precinct committees of the adjacent districts to be present, and participate in the conference. He also communicated with the county chairmen of Westmoreland and Fayette counties, urging their co-operation in the rally. Charleroi is the strategic point of the whole valley, and the large and populous sections of the two adjoining counties are going to unite in one grand enthusiastic effort to rally the coherts of Republicanism to their sense of duty at the November election.

In the neighborhood of 20 outside districts were represented at the meeting. President Hott of the Charleroi Republican club called the meeting to order and stated the object, which he said was to enlist the neighboring districts to help make the rally a success. Chas. O. Frye, chairman of the executive committee that is making the arrangements, called the roll of districts asked to participate in the meeting. These responded by a report as to political conditions, and an estimate of how many people might be depended upon to be present, and to take part in the parade. All were enthusiastic and to a man pledges hearty co-operation in the movement.

Some stirring speeches were made by the representatives in their reports and pledges of fealty. 'Squire Hornbake of California, Marcellus Riggs of Allen, Wm. Hawkins of East Bethlehem, Samuel Nixon and Frank Dunbar of Ellsworth were among those who enthusiastically urged the movement forward and pledged loyal support and energetic effort in promoting it. Dr T. B. Herron, Frank M. Lane and Samuel Myers who have just been instrumental in organizing a club of young Republican voters in Monessen were present, and pledged themselves to have from 50 to 100 young men in line in addition to Monessen's regular coherts.

Chairman C. E. Carothers who was a trifle late in arriving, was given an enthusiastic ovation on entering the room. He was loudly called upon for a speech, but he declined to make any extended address, except to give some most reassuring reports as to Republican prospects in the county as well as the state. Hesaid he attended the conference of county chairman at Philadelphia this week, and reports from everywhere indicate a rapidly rising tide for President Taft and the Republican ticket. He then introduced Congressman Chas. Matthews of New Castle, Republican candidate for the 24th district, who was present.

Mr. Matthews was also given an enthusiastic ovation. He said he had the kindliest feeling for Charleroi, as it was here that he began his congressional campaign at the time Governor Tener's campaign was launched. He said the great cry of the so-called Progressives was for the people to rule, yet when the people by a popular vote had placed a ticket of candidates in nomination, half a dozen men get together and nominate a ticket to oppose them, just as the Bull Moosers have done in this county and district. He urged support for the county legislative ticket, and said he felt sure that Beaver and Lawrence counties would give majorities for Taft and the ticket and that as far as he could see Washington would do likewise.

Brief talks were also made by Ralph M. Allison, James H. Walker, and William Feeney; candidates for the assembly, who were also present. They like Mr. Matthews, stated that their nominations had been won in an open contest and that they were now opposed by candidates selected by a self-appointed coterie of politicians who were out of revenge rather than political reform. Mr. Feeney stated that while he was known as a labor candidate and had the interests of the working people particularly at heart, he proposed to represent the whole people to the best of his ability if elected.

After other brief remarks by those present, all of which were along the line of confidence and support of the big rally, the meeting adjourned. With this conference arrangements will go ahead and all that is needed is favorable weather conditions to make the rally here on the 30th the biggest political event of the whole valley.

The young people of St. Mary's Episcopal church will hold their annual Hallowe'en social Thursday evening, October 24. Admission 15 cents. 74-t2

Inventions Discussed

Athene Club Holds Interesting Session at Home of Member in Belle Vernon

"Birth of Inventions" was the subject taken up for study by the Athene club at its fortnightly meeting held Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Thomas Brown, at Belle Vernon. Mrs. A. R. Moutsier discussed the "Inventions of Primitive Man," and Mrs. T. M. Faddis the "Achievements of Ancient Civilizations.' Mrs. E. E. Piper was to have had a part on the program but was absent attending the meeting of the State Federation of clubs as a representative of the Athene club.

HAVE NARROW ESCAPE IN QUEER ACCIDENT

Huge Towering Beam at Pittsburg Steel Plant Falls With Workmen on Top---Brings Up Against Tank and Men Step Off

A force of a half dozen or more workmen had a narrow escape from death and untold damage was through good fortune prevented this morning at Monessen when a big shaft at new work of the Pittsburg Steel company's plant fell. The workmen were on top of the shaft at the time. They fell the 100 feet or so with the shaft which brought up against a tank high in the air.

The shaft stood about 180 feet in the air. It was square and staunchly built of steel, being used for lifting immense beams of steel for the top of the large blast furnaces being erected. A piece of steel too heavy this morning was being lifted when the shaft was uprooted as it were and drawn by the steel bent over from the top. The workmen held on, realizing what was happening.

Fortunately there was a substantially constructed tank in the path of the shaft. This tank was dinged and shaken greatly when the giant beam rammed against it but stopped the progress of the shaft. The men were able to maintain their hold and not one was hurt. Now the shaft gives much the appearance of a giant tower like the leaning tower of Pisa leaning against another tower. Workmen are engaged in tearing down a portion of the big steel frame so it can be properly raised again.

MATTHEWS IS SAFE IS THE ASSURANCE

County Chairmen in Twenty-Fourth District Claim Republican Congressman is Sure of Re-election

County Chairman C. H. Young of New Castle and C. E. Carothers of Washington, assured Congressman Moore, at the headquarters of the National Republican Congressional Committee of Pennsylvania at Philadelphia this week that the 24th district comprising Washington, Lawrence and Beaver counties, was safe for Congressman Matthews and the full Republican ticket.

"We have both a Democratic and a Washington party candidate against him," said Mr. Young. "But when you remember that these same people were fused two years ago and that Mr. Matthews carried the district by a substatial majority, you can see why we are confident of carrying it by a larger majority now that they are divided.

"Free trade doesn't make any hit at all in Lawrence county, because we have the largest tin mill in the world there, and two others that are very important. The two mills in my own town employ 4000 men and in addition to that there were four blast .naces started specially to supply their needs, which employ 2000 men.

"It is a well known fact that this growing industry which now employs a total of 17,000 men the year round paying $10,000,000 a year in wages, was made possible by the McKinley bill of 1901, which increased the protective duty on tin plate from 1 cent to 2 1-10 cents a pound. Prior to that time we imported 231,311 tons of tin plate and produced none. In 1912 we produced 800,000 tons of tin plate and imported 2,000 tons. There is no more striking illustration of the value of protective tariff than the American tin plate industry."

Mr. Carothers said that the same practical demonstrations of protection were going on every day in Washington County, where they have large tin, glass and steel works.

"Our county," said Mr. Carothers, stood 3rd among all the counties of Pennsylvania for increase in population in the last ten years Ninety-seven per cent of it is underlaid by the Pittsburg coal vein. We would be simply paralyzed by free trade and our voters have no desire to take a chance, particularly in the midst of an era of high pressure prosperity."

WASHINGTON PARTY HOLDS FIRST RALLY

Dr. H. W Temple, Congressional Candidate, Chief Speaker

DISCUSSES THE TARIFF

Progressive Legislation Proposed--Marks Opening Demonstration of Rooseveltians

The initiative, referendum and recall, direct election of Senators, a better national system for the adjustment of industrial and social troubles and the tariff were given considerable attention in a learned discussion by Dr. Henry W. Temple, candidate for Congress at the opening rally here of the Washington party at the Turner Hall Friday night. Dr. Temple's address was the main one of the evening. Rufus Marriner a Washington attorney, also made a speech. There were from 150 to 200 present and considerable enthusiasm was shown.

Dr. Temple's address followed that of Marriner, who occupied a half hour discussing conditions and telling how bad they are, who is to blame, and so forth. With Marriner the evil of the Republican party lies largely with Senator Penrose. He referred feelingly to the alleged Penrose method of holding Sunday seashore conferences to determine what legislation the legislature should favorably or unfavorably consider. Marriner said it was each man's duty as a man to be honest in his dealings, declaring it was upon the platform of honesty that the Progressive candidates were conducting their campaign.

Dr. Temple's address was a very matter-of-fact discussion of some of the hardest problems the country has stacked up against. He believes in the people being given extended powers and rights, and believes that they will exercise these extended powers and rights intelligently if permitted. As one means of securing government by the people he felt there should be a national direct primary law. This is distinctively a Progressive plank. With a direct primary law by which to choose nominees, the people would have complete power in the selection of their officers. Then, Dr. Temple believes in the direct election of Senators. The initiative, referendum and recall he explained at considerable length, and defined the methods by which they would work if put into effect. By the direct primary the direct election of Senators, the initiative referendum and recall, there would be a restitution of popular sovereignity of the ballot, independent of the boss system, Dr. Temple claimed. A national workmen's compensation act is needed, he stated, to properly distribute workmen's compensation. State compensation acts would preserve an unequal balance Working laws for women and child labor prohibition laws would be incidental.

Dr. Temple is for protection by a tariff law, but not for protection for revenue only. He does not believe in the efficiency of the Payne-Aldrich bill which he says even Taft doesn't favor. A tariff commission much after the plan of the Interstate Commerce commission, an idea which by the way was advanced by Taft, is his conception of the proper method to

Wet Road The Cause

Automobile Belonging to Ellsworth Man Breaks Down at Rodgers School House

An automobile belonging to W. A. Luce of the Ellsworth Collieries company was damaged considerably Friday night when a party of Ellsworth people were returning from the Republican meeing held here. The auto skidded in the wet muddy road at Rodgers school house some distance out, and the rear part of the car went into an abutment. The axle broke. None of the passengers in the car were injured. R. A. Johnson of Ellsworth, who was driving a car that was following the Luce machine took the passengers home

BUILDING ANOTHER ADDITION

Workmen of the Charleroi Lumber company, contractors are engaged on the construction of a new decorating room for the Macbeth-Evans Glass company's plant at the rear of the former decorating room. All the brick work is completed.

The new decoratting room is set on a substantial concrete foundation built six feet above the level of the ground. This removes the first floor above the high water mark of the Monongahela river. The building is three stories high.

Much of the equipment used in the decorating room now is to be transferred it is stated, giving more room for expansion in the mechanical and blowing departments. The new addition is a building about 150 by 60 feet. The new factory built during the spring and summer on the site at the northern end of the Macbeth-Evans property is now in complete operation.

GRIM VISAGED WAR.

In the midst of our own political contest and domestic affairs comparatively few of us have taken the time to consider that war, "grim visaged war," has broken out in Europe. In spite of all the peace propoganda and the talk of disarmament the spark has fallen in the Balkan magazine, and the ignition that has followed may involve Europe in a conflict that may not only be the bloodiest of all history, but may change the face of the map of Europe entirely.

With Montenegro, Severia, Bulgaria and Greece all fighting Turkey, the other powers will in time become more or less concerned. It may be that the big powers will unite to stop the war, but the chances are that it will go on until greater complications follow. The striking feature of the contest thus far is the surprising readiness in which the small governments have been able to concentrate large armies for active service. The kingdom of Montenegro, with a population of less than 300,000—about that of Westmoreland county—has been able in a week's time to put an army of 30,000 men in the field fully equipped and trained, who are now driving back the Turkish garrisons of the frontier. The United States in the Spanish-American war, was only able two months after the declaration of war to send 15,000 illy equipped troops to Cuba. This shows what modern militarism means, and that some still more sanguinary exhibits are in store.

Universal peace is still a long way off. The world is on the verge of war, and rivers of blood are yet to be shed before all spears will be beaten into ploughshares and the swords into pruning hooks.

WHY RISK IT?

Good times are just ahead, says the New York Tribue. Business and manufacturing activities are on the increase, the crops harvested this year are the largest on record, the railroads are hard up for cars with which to meet the demands of shippers. Why, then, take a leap in the dark economically and vote in an administration whose election would be signal for a raid upon the protective system to which all business and production are now adjusted? Why scare off prosperity by again unloosening the destructive energies which played havoc with the country the last time the Democratic party was put into full possession of the government?

PICKED UP IN PASSING

It is easy to believe that Greene county is the ideal home of the Rinzville Bugle when one reads some of the "country" correspondence which is published weekly in the Greene County Democrat. In this week's issue of the Democrat the following is contained in the Possum Ridge locals:

Lis Halfin went upinter ten apple tree the tother day ter git some apples fer his women ter make apple sass, and fell strikin' himself on his herhouse.

Lum Cor has been diggin' taters for Fog VanVoorhis and Curley South fer over a week. Lum says he likes taters, but he has seed so many taters the last week that he is afeared he's goin' ter hef te pass 'em up when his women hands them around at the dinner table. Fog and Curley had pitnear a hundred and twenty bushels in ther new petater patch. They are a mighty handy kind of grub ter have around when the snow begins ter fly, especialy when you have got a big lot of kids ter feed

Mister Clemmer, the huslin' huxter from old Flat, met with a terrible misfortune the other day that pitnear caused him ter loose some of his hair. Mister Clemmer druve up ter Emith's shanty last Monday with a big load of chickens, with some roosters mixed in, and went inter the store ter git his hams—I mean his hands warmed—when some ornery boy slipped upter the wagon and let the chickens out. Mister Clemmer heard the racket and run out of the shanty just in time ter see the kid gallopin' around the corner, and the hens and rosters flyin' in every direction. He had a terrible time roundin' up the hens and got inter a big quarrel when he went inter Egly Taylor's hen house after a big rooster. Just as he was comin' out of the henhouse holdin' the rooster by the neck, Egly jumped on ter his back kinder suddent like and throwed him ter the ground while Egly's woman run up with a tea kettle of boilin' water tanr throwed it on his head. Mister Clemmer drapped the red rooster mighty quick and wigglin' from Egly's strange hold, jumped ter his feet and struck up the road hollerin' murder at every jump. He never stopped runnin' til he got ter Smith's fer he was skeered ter death, besides havin' a lot of hair scalded from his pate. Egly has been havin' a lot of trouble with some of the Possum Ridge fellers stealin' his chickens, and when he heard the racket in the hen house he just naturally come te the conclusion that the hen lifter was workin' in the day time, so that's how Mr. Taylor come ter give Mister Clemmer sich a dose. Egly is powerful sorry that he didn't git the thief instead of the huxter.

RIBBON UPSET A STATE.

The Undecorated Minister Resigned and the Government Fell.

Many interesting side lights on a court and the unexpected trials and troubles in diplomacy to it from which republics are free are given in William Mader Collier's book of reminiscences of his days as minister to the Spanish court, "At the Court of His Catholic Majesty." That a government should fall as the result of a ribbon bestowed for a purely ceremonial purpose seems rather absurd, but says Mr Collier:

"It is a historical fact that not many years ago a certain minister of the marine in one of the European countries resigned because the ruler of a foreign country, on the occasion of his visit to its capital, gave him a certain rank in a certain order and gave a higher rank to [illegible] of war.

The minister of marine contended that it was an insult to his country's navy and the fact that he received the rank which the rule required in such cases and that the minister of war had received a higher rank only because the lower rank had been given him previously made no difference to the aggrieved minister.

"In his opinion his own government in not demanding that the foreign government give him also the higher rank in this foreign order had permitted its navy to be insulted, and so he resigned and the government fell Thus does the fate of nations hang not on threads, but on ribbons."

FISH FEATHERS.

An Epicure's Dish and the Way to Trap the Makings.

"The young man did not know what he wanted to eat. His appetite was poor His palate must be tempted and tickled. He scanned the menu card again and again Finally with a sigh of resignation he called the waiter to [illegible]

"Bring me some fish feathers"

"Fish feathers" exclaimed the astonished waiter

"Yes, fish feathers' And I want 'em to[illegible] next week'"

The waiter retired for a conference with the chef, the captain and the floor man [illegible]

"No such dish here' was his report "Th[illegible] any such thing There never was such a dish in New York."

The young man arose and sighed as [illegible]

"That's what I've been told by every [illegible] in New York," he remarked sadly but if you will drop a line to the commissioner of fisheries in Washington he will correct your mistake, enlighten your ignorance, project a shaft of thought into that granite which graces your shoulders."

He sighed a third time, stretched himself slowly and added:

"The commissioner will tell you that fish feathers are a delicacy They are made from a flying fish You catch flying fish with salt [illegible] on their tails."

Then he went gloomily into the night —Ian Maclaren in Magazine.

Sportsmanship Against a Tiger.

James Outram, known as the Bayard of India, was a mighty hunter and an accomplished swordsman [illegible] once performed the hazardous feat of killing a tiger with his sword and [illegible] the back of his horse General Napier-Clavering performed a similar feat [illegible] rode round and round the tiger at a gallop gradually narrowing the circle until at last he was near enough to deliver his blow. He had only the one blow and if he had failed would have been slain. The explanation of the feat is that the tiger does not spring upon the horseman during the circling process because he is watching his opportunity As the circle draws closer and closer upon him he becomes bewildered by the strange maneuver, so unlike that of any hunter he has ever encountered

India Rubber Tree Fruit.

The fruit of the india rubber tree is somewhat similar to that of the Ricinus communis, the castor oil plant though somewhat larger The seeds have a not disagreeable taste and yield a purplish oil. It is a fairly good substitute for linseed oil, though it dries less rapidly. Mixed with copal blue and turpentine, it makes a good varnish The oil may also be used in the manufacture of soaps and lithographic inks The seeds are somewhat like tiny chestnuts, although darker in color The Indian girls are fond of wearing bracelets and necklets made of them.

A Funny Misprint.

One of the most ludicrous announcements that ever appeared perhaps was made by a London newspaper in the earlier half of the last century to the effect that Sir Robert Peel "and a party of fiends were shooting peasants in Ireland" The words misprinted, of course, were "friends" and "pheasants."

To most Americans the word "Dutch" means German The Dutch are Hollanders from the Netherlands. New York was first settled by the Dutch from Holland

The first Germans came to this country in 1682 and settled at Germantown. It is estimated that the Germans and their descendants in Pennsylvania numbered 100,000 at the time of the revolution. The descendants of these are called the Pennsylvania Germans or Dutch The word Dutch is a corruption of Deutsch, meaning German.

The early Germans were followers of Menno Simons, known as Mennonites They were persecuted in their own country on account of their religious belief and when Penn offered religious liberty it was gladly accepted by them The persecuted Germans came largely from the Rhenish palatinate, Wurtemberg, from the lower Rhine, Alsace, Savoy and Switzerland

The southeastern counties of Pennsylvania, such as Lancaster, York, Berks and Lehigh, were chosen for settlement These settlers spoke a variety of dialects, and, owing to segregation in religious communities, they clung to their mother tongue English words have since crept in and as a result we have the somewhat picturesque language known as the "Pennsylvania Dutch" Their religious belief and their common interest have preserved this class with singular purity.—Philadelphia Ledger.

A NOTRE DAME LADY'S APPEAL.

To all knowing sufferers of rheumatism, whether muscular or of the joints, sciatica, lumbago, backache, pains in the kidneys or neuralgia pains, to write to her for a home treatment which has repeatedly cured all of these tortures. She feels it her duty to send it to all sufferers FREE. You cure yourself at home as thousands will testify—no change of climate being necessary. This simple discovery banishes uric acid from the blood, loosens the stiffened joints, purifies the blood, and brightens the eyes, giving elasticity and tone to the whole system. If the above interests you, for proof address Mr. M. Summers, Box R, Notre Dame, Ind.

Her Dearest Hopes Realized —Health, Happiness and Baby.

Plattsburg, Miss.—"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has proved very beneficial to me, for now I am well and have a sweet, healthy baby, and our home is happy.

"I was an invalid from nervous prostration, indigestion and female troubles.

"I think I suffered every pain a woman could before I began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I think it saved this baby's life, as I lost my first one.

"My health has been very good ever since, and I praise your medicine to all my friends."—Mrs. VERNA WILKES, R. F. D. No. 1, Plattsburg, Miss.

The darkest days of husband and wife are when they come to look forward to a childless and lonely old age.

Many a wife has found herself incapable of motherhood owing to some derangement of the feminine system, often curable by the proper remedies.

In many homes once childless there are now children because of the fact that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound makes women normal, healthy

PROPOSED AMENDMENTS TO THE CONSTITUTION SUBMITTED TO THE CITIZENS OF THIS COMMONWEALTH FOR FINAL APPROVAL OR REJECTION, BY THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF THE COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA, AND PUBLISHED BY ORDER OF THE SECRETARY OF THE COMMONWEALTH IN PURSUANCE OF ARTICLE XVIII OF THE CONSTITUTION

Number One.

A JOINT RESOLUTION

Proposing an amendment to article nine, section four, of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, authorizing the State to issue bonds to the amount of fifty millions of dollars for the improvement of the highways of the Commonwealth.

Section 1. Be it resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, That the following amendment to the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania be, and the same is hereby, proposed, in accordance with the provisions of article [illegible]

"Section 4. No debt shall be created by or on behalf of the State except to supply casual deficiencies of revenue, repel invasion, suppress insurrection, defend the State in war, or to pay existing debt, and the debt created to supply deficiency in revenue shall never exceed, in the aggregate at any one time, one million of dollars," be amended so as to read as follows:

"Section 4. No debt shall be created by, or on behalf of the State, except to supply casual deficiencies of revenue, repel invasion, suppress insurrection, defend the State in war, or to pay existing debt, and the debt created to supply deficiencies in revenue shall never exceed, in the aggregate at any one time, one million of dollars: Provided, however, That the General Assembly, irrespective of any debt, may authorize the State to issue bonds to the amount of fifty millions of dollars for the purpose of improving and rebuilding the highways of the Commonwealth.

A CONCURRENT RESOLUTION.

Proposing an amendment to section three of article eight of the Constitution of Pennsylvania.

Section 1. Be it resolved by the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania (if the Senate concur). That the following is proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, in accordance with the provisions of the eighteenth article thereof:—

Section 1. Amend section three of article eight, which reads as follows: "All judges electing by the electors of the State at large may be elected at either a general or municipal election, as circumstances may require. All the elections for judges of the courts for the several judicial districts, and for county, city, ward, borough and township officers, for regular terms of service, shall be held on the municipal election day; namely, the Tuesday next following the first Monday of November in each odd-numbered year, but the General Assembly may by law fix a different day, two-thirds of all the members of each House consenting thereto: Provided, That such elections shall always be held in an odd-numbered year," so as to read:

Section 3. All judges elected by the electors of the State at large may be elected at either a general or municipal election, as circumstances may require. All elections for judges of the courts for the several judicial districts, and for county, city, ward, borough, and township officers, for regular terms of service, shall be held on the municipal election day; namely, the Tuesday next following the first Monday of November in each odd-numbered year, but the General Assembly may by law fix a different day, two-thirds of all the members of each House consenting thereto. Provided, That such elections shall be held in an odd-numbered year: Provided further, That all judges for the courts of the several judicial districts holding office at the present time, whose terms of office may end in an odd-numbered year, shall continue to hold their offices until the first Monday of January in the next succeeding even-numbered year.

CHINESE SIGNBOARDS.

Poetic Gems to Attract Business to Shops in Peking.

W. Simpson in "Meeting the Sun" writes: "I saw in Peking a list of signboards, and a few samples of them will illustrate their general character: 'Shop of Heaven Sent Luck,' 'Shop of Celestial Principles,' 'The Nine Felicities Prolonged,' 'Mutton Shop of Morning Twilight,' 'The Ten Virtues All Complete,' 'Flowers Rise to the Milky Way.'

"In these signs we can see that the Chinese can combine the soul of a poet with the pocket of a shopman. Contrast such efforts with 'The Noted Feipie House' of the London streets, and one must feel that we are outer barbarians. Carlyle quotes a Chinese signboard, 'No Cheating Here,' but I could not find anything like it in the list. 'Good and Just According to Heaven' ought to satisfy the ideal notions of the author of 'Sartor Resartus.'"

"The Honest Pen Shop of Li" implies that other pen shops are not honest. The "Steel Shop of the Pockmarked Wang" suggests that any peculiarity of a shopman may be used to impress the memory of customers. Snub noses, squint eyes, lame legs and hump backs might all be used in this way.

A charcoal shop calls itself the "Fountain of Beauty," and a place for the sale of coal indulges in the title of "Heavenly Embroidery." An oil and wine establishment is the "Neighborhood of Chief Beauty," a description the realization of which it is hard to conceive anywhere in Peking. "The Three Righteous" one would scarcely expect from an opium shop.—London Globe.

WHERE SUCCESS IN FARMING IS SURE

Northern California Offers Unheard of Opportunities.

Agriculture and horticulture are making greater strides today than ever in the history of the world, and in the United States this is especially noted in the far western lands. California is receiving more attention than any part of the country because the ideal climate affords a much longer growing season than in the eastern states.

California is distinguished in more ways than one. She is first in production of citrus fruits, deciduous fruits and fuel oil. It is the most wonderful mineral and agricultural state in resources almost beyond the comprehension of man. Its area is larger than New York, New Jersey, Rhode Island, Massachusetts, Vermont, New Hampshire, Connecticut, Maine and Ohio combined. Its valleys are very expensive, well watered and rich in productivity, and its capacity for yielding is great enough to afford comfort and plenty to one half the population of the United States.

Such a thing as a crop failure is a much less frequent proposition in California than in other states where the summers are oppressive and the winters bitterly cold. Cyclones or devastating tornadoes are unknown and there are no epidemic diseases to menace the health. In the Sacramento valley, which is one of the richest areas of the world, the small investor in agricultural enterprise has an easy way to success and independence.

For ambitious men or women who have the rural habit and have some capital at their command there is grand opportunity on the soil of the Sacramento valley in California. Farming there is a pleasanter occupation than it is in any other state in the Union.

Alfalfa, poultry, cattle and hogs bring profits. The returns in the shortest period and they are always in demand. Fruit farming is one of the most interesting occupations known to Florida's, and trees properly treated will yield their owner a harvest well worth all the mental and physical energy he has expended on them.

While it is absolutely certain that success will attend the efforts of every energetic man who comes to the Sacramento valley to farm, provided he has determination, brains and some money, he will find the game much easier if he profits by the experience of men and women who came to the Sacramento valley during the past several years and made good. You may find it to your advantage to write to the settlers on the Kuhn farms in Northern California and ask all about the system that brought success. It will not cost a dime, interesting in formation but each reply will be an inspiration, perhaps stimulate courage in many and supply the necessary impetus to seek fortune on the shores of the Pacific coast. Address the Kuhn Irrigated Farms, 1020 Kohl Building, San Francisco, Cal.

FINDING A PAWN TICKET

Sometimes It May Be Just Walking Into a Trap.

"While walking through one of the prominent streets the other day," said an innocent looking individual, "I espied an important looking piece of paper on the sidewalk and picked it up. I found it to be a pawn ticket for a diamond ring, which some careless person had apparently dropped.

"According to the ticket, the pawnbroker was located several blocks below me. Now, I thought to myself, I'll just walk down there and redeem the ring. Perhaps I can sell it at a profit. Perhaps I can't, but I'll have a good walk anyway. [illegible] I was poor. Why not spend a dollar on myself?

"I found the place without difficulty and my conscience was relieved when I found several hundred of that name in the directory. I soon made up my mind and started for the broker's office. I asked to see the pin before redeeming it, stating that I had bought the ticket, and upon the payment of 25 cents was allowed to examine it.

"It looked like a ring to me, although I am not a judge of diamonds, so I paid the pawnbroker $15 and the ticket of $15.25 and the pin became mine.

"The next day I showed it to an expert who declared it to be worth far less than the amount I had paid for it.

"Like many of some people, he said, [illegible] persons like myself. The [illegible] consists of [illegible] pawnbrokers' pieces of jewelry for amounts many times in excess of their value and dropping them on the sidewalk in different parts of town where [illegible] the losers might find them and redeem them, as you did, thus yielding a handsome profit to the pawnbroker. [illegible]

Climate and the Color of Cities

It is estimated by meteorologists that the heat [illegible] constantly in the atmosphere by the combustion of carbon modifies little by little the climate of cities and surrounding districts. It is said that 19,000,000 tons of carbon is the average yearly weight burned in cities the size of London and New York. It is also pointed out that the color of cities is changed according to the amount of carbon burned. Confirmation of these facts is offered in historical description of cities. Paris, being referred to by one historian of ancient times as a "city of red," while to this day certain Italian cities are described as "violet." Meteorologists prophesy that when our west is as thickly settled as central Europe our clear sweep of blue sky will be very materially modified.—Harper's.

He Aroused Them.

When Samuel S. Colber was preaching in an old log schoolhouse in Johnson county, Missouri, in 1872, his congregation was quite small. One Sunday all were sitting at the desks forward near the puncheon floor. The sermon was monotonous and the old log seats had no backs. Observing the sleepy, downcast look of the congregation, the minister woke them up by shouting, "Arouse, heaven is not under the floor!"

WHY WOMEN SUFFER

Many Charleroi Women are Learning The Cure.

Women often suffer, not knowing the cause.

Backache, headache, dizziness, nervousness.

Irregular urinary passage, weakness, languor.

Each a seeming torture of itself.

Quickly give the help the kidneys need.

No remedy endorsed like Doan's Kidney Pills.

Endorsed at home.

Mrs William Urben, Sr., 736 Fallowfield avenue, Charleroi, Pa., says: "Some years ago I used Doan's Kidney Pills, procured at Piper Bros.' Drug Store and they cured me of an attack of kidney disease. I value this remedy highly, and do not hesitate to recommend it to other sufferers from kidney trouble."

Awful Ignorance.

Young Man With Lavender Tie. Pink Shirt and Bright Purple Socks—Say. Jim Lawrence is a queer duck He pronounces his words so queer! The other day he was telling some girls about going to the Blank inn for a "tahbledote" dinner As soon as we left the girls I asked him what he meant and come to find out he meant table de hotey! Ha. ha. ha!—Chicago Tribune.

Her Discourse.

"My dear," mildly expostulated her husband. "I said only half a dozen words and you have talked about them for forty-five minutes."

"Well," snapped Mrs. Vick-Senn, "the preacher does that sort of thing every Sunday morning and you never kick about it."—Chicago Tribune.

Consumption

Anyone interested in the treatment of Consumption should get one of the booklets telling of recoveries by the use of Eckman's Alterative Coughs, Stubborn Colds and Pneumonia may be the beginning of more serious trouble—Eckman's Alterative is the effective remedy. Read Mr. Kanaly's statement:—

Saratoga, N. Y.

"Gentlemen: For five or six years I was troubled with cough and expectoration. I also had a high fever. My case was declared Consumption by my physician. I was given Cod Liver Oil. Creosote and other medicines, all without benefit.

"At Christmas time, 1906, I was not expected to live. Calling Dr. R. H. McCarthy, he advised the use of Eckman's Alterative, which I took with excellent results, and was entirely cured. I have gained in weight. I go out in all weathers and have had no cough or cold whatever. I give these facts to encourage others to use Eckman's Alterative."

(Sworn Affidavit) JAS. W. KANALY.

Eckman's Alterative is effective in Bronchitis, Asthma, Hay Fever; Throat and Lung Troubles, and in upbuilding the system. Does not contain poisons, opiates or habit-forming drugs. settle disputable points and fix schedules. A real Progressive plank he introduced was that of considering each schedule of the tariff bill separately and fixing it separately in order to do away with political maneuvering among Senators and Representatives. A commision should be employed to look after the regulation of trusts, Dr. Temple argued, as a mode of public control.

In an interview Dr. Temple said: "I have been very much impressed with the prosperity of Charleroi and the natural advantages which you have from your location in one of the greatest industrial valleys of the world. The progressive spirit shown by your citizens as indicated by your various activities, is commendable. It is no wonder that your city is termed the Magic City of the Monongahela Valley. You, no doubt, are proud of your free institutions, as well as your industrial operations, your well equipped school buildings and the beautiful school house now in process of construction, your most useful system of free navigation of the Monongahela which flows by your doors toward the Ohio and Mississippi Rivers.

"But it seems to me that, with all the blessings of these institutions, there is, at least, one very important thing yet to be desired—and that is free bridges to join you with your sister city of Monessen I believe that your Representative in Congress and your members of the State Legislature should use their best endeavors to have all of the commercial bridges over the navigable streams made free of tolls. Toll bridges are as much out of date as toll gates on a public highway. If, for the purpose of navigation, the powers of government have seen fit to make the locks free, I know of no reason why, for the purpose of commerce and the convenience of the people the bridges over navigable streams should not also be made free."

REPUBLICANS PREPARE FOR THEIR BIG RALLY

COUNTY CHAIRMAN HERE

Elaborate Arrangements Being Made---Congressman Matthews Tells Conditions

That the big Republican rally to be held in Charleroi on the evening of October 39 is going to be a material success as well as a rousing manifestation of the strongly growing Republican sentiment that is sweeping the Monongahela valley, was assured by the enthusiastic meeting of Republicans who assembled at the Bank of Charleroi Hall Friday evening in order to discuss ways and means and learn of the sentiment of the adjacent districts. Everything is working smoothly, and all that is required is adequate transportation facilities to bring in one of the largest crowds that ever assembled in Charleroi.

It was a typical gathering of the fighting clans. County Chairman C. E. Carothers had notified the members of the precinct committees of the adjacent districts to be present, and participate in the conference. He also communicated with the county chairmen of Westmoreland and Fayette counties, urging their co-operation in the rally. Charleroi is the strategic point of the whole valley, and the large and populous sections of the two adjoining counties are going to unite in one grand enthusiastic effort to rally the coherts of Republicanism to their sense of duty at the November election.

In the neighborhood of 20 outside districts were represented at the meeting. President Hott of the Charleroi Republican club called the meeting to order and stated the object, which he said was to enlist the neighboring districts to help make the rally a success. Chas. O. Frye, chairman of the executive committee that is making the arrangements, called the roll of districts asked to participate in the meeting. These responded by a report as to political conditions, and an estimate of how many people might be depended upon to be present, and to take part in the parade. All were enthusiastic and to a man pledges hearty co-operation in the movement.

Some stirring speeches were made by the representatives in their reports and pledges of fealty. 'Squire Hornbake of California, Marcellus Riggs of Allen, Wm. Hawkins of East Bethlehem, Samuel Nixon and Frank Dunbar of Ellsworth were among those who enthusiastically urged the movement forward and pledged loyal support and energetic effort in promoting it. Dr T. B. Herron, Frank M. Lane and Samuel Myers who have just been instrumental in organizing a club of young Republican voters in Monessen were present and pledged themselves to have from 50 to 100 young men in line in addition to Monessen's regular coherts.

Chairman C. E. Carothers who was a trifle late in arriving, was given an enthusiastic ovation on entering the room. He was loudly called upon for a speech, but he declined to make any extended address, except to give some most reassuring reports as to Republican prospects in the county as well as the state. He said he attended the conference of county chairman at Philadelphia this week, and reports from everywhere indicate a rapidly rising tide for President Taft and the Republican ticket. He then introduced Congressman Chas. Matthews of New Castle, Republican candidate for the 24th district, who was present.

Mr. Matthews was also given an enthusiastic ovation. He said he had the kindliest feeling for Charleroi, as it was here that he began his congressional campaign at the time Governor Tener's campaign was launched. He said the great cry of the so-called Progressives was for the people to rule, yet when the people by a popular vote had placed a ticket of candidates in nomination, half a dozen men get together and nominate a ticket to oppose them, just as the Bull Moosers have done in this county and district. He urged support for the county legislative ticket, and said he felt sure that Beaver and Lawrence counties would give majorities for Taft and the ticket and that as far as he could see Washington would do likewise.

Brief talks were also made by Ralph M. Allison, James H. Walker, and William Feeney; candidates for the assembly, who were also present. They like Mr. Matthews, stated that their nominations had been won in an open contest and that they were now opposed by candidates selected by a self-appointed coterie of politicians who were out of revenge rather than political reform. Mr. Feeney stated that while he was known as a labor candidate and had the interests of the working people particularly at heart, he proposed to represent the whole people to the best of his ability if elected.

After other brief remarks by those present, all of which were along the line of confidence and support of the big rally, the meeting adjourned. With this conference arrangements will go ahead and all that is needed is favorable weather conditions to make the rally here on the 30th the biggest political event of the whole valley.

The young people of St. Mary's Episcopal church will hold their annual Hallowe'en social Thursday evening, October 24. Admission 15 cents. 74-t2

HAVE NARROW ESCAPE IN QUEER ACCIDENT

A force of a half dozen or more workmen had a narrow escape from death and untold damage was through good fortune prevented this morning at Monessen when a big shaft at new work of the Pittsburg Steel company's plant fell. The workmen were on top of the shaft at the time. They fell the 100 feet or so with the shaft which brought up against a tank high in the air.

The shaft stood about 180 feet in the air. It was square and staunchly built of steel, being used for lifting immense beams of steel for the top of the large blast furnaces being erected. A piece of steel too heavy this morning was being lifted when the shaft was uprooted as it were and drawn by the steel bent over from the top. The workmen held on, realizing what was happening.

Fortunately there was a substantially constructed tank in the path of the shaft. This tank was dinged and shaken greatly when the giant beam rammed against it but stopped the progress of the shaft. The men were one was hurt. Now the shaft gives much the appearance of a giant tower like the leaning tower of Pisa leaning against another tower. Workmen are engaged in tearing down a portion of the big steel frame so it can be properly raised again.

MATTHEWS IS SAFE IS THE ASSURANCE

County Chairman C. H. Young of New Castle and C. E. Carothers of Washington, assured Congressman Moore, at the headquarters of the National Republican Congressional Committee of Pennsylvania at Philadelphia this week that the 24th district comprising Washington, Lawrence and Beaver counties, was safe for Congressman Matthews and the full Republican ticket.

"We have both a Democratic and a Washington party candidate against him," said Mr. Young. "But when you remember that these same people were fused two years ago and that Mr. Matthews carried the district by a substatial majority, you can see why we are confident of carrying it by a larger majority now that they are divided.

"Free trade doesn't make any hit at all in Lawrence county, because we have the largest tin mill in the world there, and two others that are very important. The two mills in my own town employ 4000 men and in addition to that there were four blast [illegible] started specially to supply their needs, which employ 2000 men.

"It is a well known fact that this growing industry which now employs a total of 17,000 men the year round paying $10,000,000 a year in wages, was made possible by the McKinley bill of 1901, which increased the protective duty on tin plate from 1 cent to 2 1-10 cents a pound. Prior to that time we imported 231,311 tons of tin plate and produced none. In 1912 we produced 800,000 tons of tin plate and imported 2,000 tons. There is no more striking illustration of the value of protective tariff than the American tin plate industry."

Mr. Carothers said that the same practical demonstrations of protection were going on every day in Washington County, where they have large tin, glass and steel works.

"Our county," said Mr. Carothers, stood 3rd among all the counties of Pennsylvania for increase in population in the last ten years. Ninety-seven per cent of it is underlaid by the Pittsburg coal vein. We would be simply paralyzed by free trade and our voters have no desire to take a chance, particularly in the midst of an era of high pressure prosperity."

BUILDING ANOTHER ADDITION

Workmen of the Charleroi Lumber company, contractors are engaged on the construction of a new decorating room for the Macbeth-Evans Glass company's plant at the rear of the former decorating room. All the brick work is completed.

The new decorating room is set on a substantial concrete foundation built six feet above the level of the ground. This removes the first floor above the high water mark of the Monongahela river. The building is three stories high.

Much of the equipment used in the decorating room now is to be transferred it is stated, giving more room for expansion in the mechanical and blowing departments. The new addition is a building about 150 by 60 feet. The new factory built during the spring and summer on the site at the northern end of the Macbeth-Evans property is now in complete operation.

WASHINGTON PARTY HOLDS FIRST RALLY

Dr. H. W Temple, Congressional Candidate, Chief Speaker

DISCUSSES THE TARIFF

Progressive Legislation Proposed--Marks Opening Demonstration of Rooseveltians

The initiative, referendum and recall, direct election of Senators, a better national system for the adjustment of industrial and social troubles and the tariff were given considerable attention in a learned discussion by Dr. Henry W. Temple, candidate for Congress at the opening rally here of the Washington party at the Turner Hall Friday night. Dr. Temple's address was the main one of the evening. Rufus Marriner a Washington attorney, also made a speech. There were from 150 to 200 present and considerable enthusiasm was shown.

Dr. Temple's address followed that of Marriner, who occupied a half hour discussing conditions and telling how bad they are, who is to blame, and so forth. With Marriner the evil of the Republican party lies largely with Senator Penrose. He referred feelingly to the alleged Penrose method of holding Sunday seashore conferences to determine what legislation the legislature should favorably or unfavorably consider. Marriner said it was each man's duty as a man to be honest in his dealings, declaring it was upon the platform of honesty that the Progressive candidates were conducting their campaign.

Dr. Temple's address was a very matter-of-fact discussion of some of the hardest problems the country has stacked up against. He believes in the people being given extended powers and rights, and believes that they will exercise these extended powers and rights intelligently if permitted. As one means of securing government by the people he felt there should be a national direct primary law. This is distinctively a Progressive plank. With a direct primary law by which to choose nominees, the people would have complete power in the selection of their officers. Then, Dr. Temple believes in the direct election of Senators. The initiative, referendum and recall he explained at considerable length, and defined the methods by which they would work if put into effect. By the direct primary the direct election of Senators, the initiative referendum and recall, there would be a restitution of popular sovereignty of the ballot, independent of the boss system, Dr. Temple claimed. A national workmen's compensation act is needed, he stated, to properly distribute workmen's compensation. State compensation acts would preserve an unequal balance Working laws for women and child labor prohibition laws would be incidental.

Dr. Temple is for protection by a tariff law, but not for protection for revenue only. He does not believe in the efficiency of the Payne-Aldrich bill which he says even Taft doesn't favor. A tariff commission much after the plan of the Interstate Commerce commission, an idea which by the way was advanced by Taft, is his conception of the proper method to

In the midst of our own political contest and domestic affairs comparatively few of us have taken the time to consider that war, grim visaged war, has broken out in Europe. In spite of all the peace propaganda and the talk of disarmament the spark has fallen in the Balkan magazine, and the ignition that has followed may involve Europe in a conflict that may not only be the bloodiest of all history, but may change the face of the map of Europe entirely.

With Montenegro, Severia, Bulgaria and Greece all fighting Turkey, the other powers will in time become more or less concerned. It may be that the big powers will unite to stop the war, but the chances are that it will go on until greater complications follow. The striking feature of the contest thus far is the surprising readiness in which the small governments have been able to concentrate large armies for active service. The kingdom of Montenegro, with a population of less than 300,000—about that of Westmoreland county—has been able in a week's time to put an army of 30,000 men in the field fully equipped and trained, who are now driving back the Turkish garrisons of the frontier. The United States in the Spanish-American war was only able two months after the declaration of war to send 15,000 illy equipped troops to Cuba. This shows what modern militarism means, and that some still more sanguinary exhibits are in store.

Universal peace is still a long way off. The world is on the verge of war, and rivers of blood are yet to be shed before all spears will be beaten into ploughshares and the swords into pruning hooks.

PICKED UP IN PASSING

It is easy to believe that Greene county is the ideal home of the Bingville Bugle when one reads some of the "country" correspondence which is published weekly in the Greene County Democrat. In this week's issue of the Democrat the following is contained in the Possum Ridge locals:

Lis Halfin went upinter an apple tree the tother day ter git some apples fer his women ter make apple sass, and fell strikin' himself on his henhouse.

Lum Cor has been diggin' tatters for Egg Vanhornis and Curley South fer over a week. Lum says he likes taters, but he has seed so many taters the last week that he is afeared he's goin' ter haf ter pass 'em up when his women hands them around at the dinner table. Fog and Curley had pitnear a hundred and twenty bushels in ther new petater patch. They are a mighty handy kind of grub ter have around when the snow begins ter fly, especially when you have got a big lot of kids ter feed.

Mister Clemmer, the hustlin' huxter from old Flat, met with a terrible misfortune the other day that pitnear caused him ter loose some of his hair. Mister Clemmer druve up ter Emith's shanty last Monday with a big load of chickens, with some roosters mixed in, and went inter the store ter git his hams—I mean his hands warmed—when some ornery boy slipped upter the wagon and let the chickens out. Mister Clemmer heard the racket and run out of the shanty just in time ter see the kid gallopin' around the corner, and the hens and rosters flyin' in every direction. He had a terrible time roundin' up the hens and got inter a big quarrel when he went inter Egly Taylor's hen house after a big rooster. Jist as he was comin' out of the henhouse holdin' the rooster by the neck, Egly jumped on ter his back kinder suddent like and throwed him ter the ground while Egly's woman run up with a tea kettle of boilin' water tanr throwed it on his head. Mister Clemmer drapped the red rooster mighty quick and wigglin' from Egly's strange hold, jumped ter his feet and struck up the road hollerin' murder at every jump. He never stopped runnin' til he got ter Smith's fer he was skeered ter death, besides havin' a lot of hair scalded from his pate. Egly has been havin' a lot of trouble with some of the Possum Ridge fellers stealin' his chickens, and when he heard the racket in the hen house he just naturally come ter the conclusion that the hen lifter was workin' in the day time, so that's how Mr. Taylor come ter give Mister Clemmer sich a dose. Egly is powerful sorry that he didn't git the thief instead of the huxter.

RIBBON UPSET A STATE.

Many interesting side lights on a court and the unexpected trials and troubles incident to it from which republics are free are given in William Miller Collier's book of reminiscences of his days as minister to the Spanish court, "At the Court of His Catholic Majesty." That a government should fall as the result of a ribbon bestowed for a purely ceremonial purpose seems rather absurd, but, says Mr. Collier:

"It is a historical fact that not many years ago a certain minister of the marine in one of the European countries resigned because the ruler of a foreign country, on the occasion of his visit to its capital, gave him a certain rank in a certain order and gave a higher rank to his colleague, the minister of war. The minister of marine contended that it was an insult to his country's navy and the fact that he received the rank which the rule required in such cases and that the minister of war had received a higher rank only because the lower rank had been given him previously made no difference to the aggrieved minister.

"In his opinion his own government in not demanding that the foreign government give him also the higher rank in this foreign order had permitted its navy to be insulted, and so he resigned, and the government fell. Thus does the fate of nations hang not on threads, but on ribbons."

FISH FEATHERS.

An Epicure's Dish and the Way to Get the Makings.

"The young man did not know what he wanted to eat. His appetite was poor. His palate must be tempted and tickled. He scanned the menu card again and again. Finally, with a sigh of resignation he said to the waiter:

"'Bring me some fish feathers.'

"'Fish feathers,' exclaimed the astonished waiter.

"'Yes, fish feathers. And I want 'em [illegible] next week.'

The waiter retired for a conference with the chef, the captain and the floor manager.

"'No such dish here,' was his report. 'There ain't any such thing. There never was such a dish in New York.'

The young man arose and sighed as:

"'That's what I've been told by every [illegible] in New York,' he remarked sadly. 'But if you will drop a line to the commissioner of fisheries in Washington he will correct your mistake enlighten your ignorance, project a shaft of thought into that granite which [illegible] above your shoulders.'

He sighed a third time, stretched himself slowly and added:

'The commissioner will tell you that fish feathers are a delicacy. They are taken from flying fish. You catch flying fish with salt water on their tails.'

He went gloomily into the night.—Dollar Magazine.

Swordsmanship Against a Tiger.

James Outram, known as the "bayard of India," was a mighty hunter and an accomplished swordsman. He once performed the hazardous feat of killing a tiger with his sword and from the back of his horse. General Nicholson performed a similar feat. The horseman rode round and round the tiger at a gallop, gradually narrowing the circle until at last he was near enough to deliver his blow. He had only the one blow, and if he had failed would have been slain. The explanation of the feat is that the tiger does not spring upon the horseman during the circling process because he is watching his opportunity. As the circle draws closer and closer upon him he becomes bewildered by the strange maneuver, so unlike that of any hunter he has ever encountered.

India Rubber Tree Fruit.

The fruit of the india rubber tree is somewhat similar to that of the Ricinus communis, the castor oil plant, though somewhat larger. The seeds have a not disagreeable taste and yield a purplish oil. It is a fairly good substitute for linseed oil, though it dries less rapidly. Mixed with copal lute and turpentine, it makes a good varnish. The oil may also be used in the manufacture of soaps and lithographic inks. The seeds are somewhat like tiny chestnuts, although darker in color. The Indian girls are fond of wearing bracelets and necklets made of them.

A Funny Misprint.

One of the most ludicrous announcements that ever appeared perhaps was made by a London newspaper in the earlier half of the last century to the effect that Sir Robert Peel "and a party of fiends were shooting peasants in Ireland." The words misprinted, of course, were "friends" and "pheasants."

PENNSYLVANIA DUTCH.

Descendants of the Germans Who Came to This Country in 1682.

To most Americans the word "Dutch" means German. The Dutch are Hollanders from the Netherlands. New York was first settled by the Dutch from Holland.

The first Germans came to this country in 1682 and settled at Germantown. It is estimated that the Germans and their descendants in Pennsylvania numbered 100,000 at the time of our revolution. The descendants of these are called the Pennsylvania Germans or Dutch. The word Dutch is a corruption of Deutsch, meaning German.

The early Germans were followers of Menno Simons, known as Mennonites. They were persecuted in their own country on account of their religious belief and when Penn offered religious liberty it was gladly accepted by them. The persecuted Germans came largely from the Rhenish palatinate, Wurtemberg, from the lower Rhine, Alsace, Saxony and Switzerland.

The southeastern counties of Pennsylvania, such as Lancaster, York, Berks and Lebanon, were chosen for settlement. These settlers spoke a variety of dialects, and, owing to segregation in religious communities, they clung to their mother tongue. English words have since crept in and as a result we have the somewhat picturesque language known as the "Pennsylvania Dutch." Their religious belief and their common interest have preserved this class with singular purity.—Philadelphia Ledger.

A NOTRE DAME LADY'S APPEAL.

To all knowing sufferers of rheumatism, whether muscular or of the joints, sciatica, lumbago, backache, pains in the kidneys or neuralgia pains, to write to her for a home treatment which has repeatedly cured all of these tortures. She feels it her duty to send it to all sufferers FREE. You cure yourself at home as thousands will testify—no change of climate being necessary. This simple discovery banishes uric acid from the blood, loosens the stiffened joints, purifies the blood, and brightens the eyes, giving elasticity and tone to the whole system. PROPOSED AMENDMENTS TO THE CONSTITUTION SUBMITTED TO THE CITIZENS OF THIS COMMONWEALTH FOR THEIR APPROVAL OR REJECTION, BY THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF THE COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA, AND PUBLISHED BY ORDER OF THE SECRETARY OF THE COMMONWEALTH, IN PURSUANCE OF ARTICLE XVIII OF THE CONSTITUTION

Number One.

A JOINT RESOLUTION

Proposing an amendment to article nine, section four, of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, authorizing the State to issue bonds to the amount of fifty millions of dollars for the improvement of the highways of the Commonwealth.

Section 1. Be it resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, That the following amendment to the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania be, and the same is hereby, proposed, in accordance with the eighteenth article thereof:—

"Section 4. No debt shall be created by or on behalf of the State, except to supply casual deficiencies of revenue, repel invasion, suppress insurrection, defend the State in war, or to pay existing debt; and the debt created to supply deficiencies in revenue shall never exceed, in the aggregate at any one time, one million of dollars," be amended so as to read as follows:

Section 4. No debt shall be created by or on behalf of the State, except to supply casual deficiencies of revenue, repel invasion, suppress insurrection, defend the State in war, or to pay existing debt, and the debt created to supply deficiency in revenue shall never exceed, in the aggregate at any one time, one million of dollars: Provided, however, That the General Assembly, irrespective of any debt, may authorize the State to issue bonds to the amount of fifty millions of dollars for the purpose of improving and rebuilding the highways of the Commonwealth.

A JOINT RESOLUTION

Proposing an amendment to section seven, article three, of the Constitution of Pennsylvania, so as to permit special legislation regulating labor.

Section 1. Be it resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, That the following is proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, in accordance with the provisions of article eighteen thereof:—

Amendment to Article Three, Section Seven.

Section 2. Amend section seven, article three, of the Constitution of Pennsylvania, which reads as follows:—

"Section 7. The General Assembly shall not pass any local or special law authorizing

"Regulating the affairs of counties, cities, townships, wards, boroughs, or school districts;

"Changing the names of persons or places;

"Changing the venue in civil or criminal cases;

"Authorizing the laying out, opening, altering, or maintaining roads, highways, streets or alleys;

"Relating to ferries or bridges, or incorporating ferry or bridge companies, except for the erection of bridges crossing streams which form boundaries between this and any other State;

"Vacating roads, town plats, streets or alleys;

"Relating to cemeteries, graveyards, or public grounds not of the State;

"Authorizing the adoption or legitimation of children;

"Locating or changing county seats, erecting new counties or changing county lines;

"Incorporating cities, towns, or villages, or changing their charters;

"For the opening and conducting of elections, or fixing or changing the place of voting;

"Granting divorces;

"Erecting new townships or boroughs, changing township lines, borough limits or school districts;

"Creating offices, or prescribing the powers and duties of officers in counties, cities, boroughs, townships, election or school districts;

"Changing the law of descent or succession;

"Regulating the practice or jurisdiction of, or changing the rules of evidence in, any judicial proceeding or inquiry before courts, aldermen, justices of the peace, sheriffs, commissioners, arbitrators, auditors, masters in chancery, or other tribunals, or providing or changing methods for the collection of debts, or the enforcing of judgments, or prescribing the effect of judicial sales of real estate;

"Regulating the fees, or extending the powers and duties of aldermen, justices of the peace, magistrates or constables;

"Regulating the management of public schools, the building or repairing of school houses and the raising of money for such purposes;

A CONCURRENT RESOLUTION.

Proposing an amendment to section three of article eight of the Constitution of Pennsylvania.

Section 1. Be it resolved by the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania (if the Senate concur), That the following is proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, in accordance with the provisions of the eighteenth article thereof:

Section 2. Amend section three of article eight, which reads as follows: "All judges except those elected by the electors of the State at large may be elected at either a general or municipal election, as circumstances may require. All the elections for judges of the courts for the several judicial districts, and for county, city, ward, borough and township officers, for regular terms of service, shall be held on the municipal election day; namely, the Tuesday next following the first Monday of November in each odd-numbered year, but the General Assembly may by law fix a different day, two-thirds of all the members of each House consenting thereto: Provided, That such elections shall always be held in an odd-numbered year," so as to read:

Section 3. All judges elected by the electors of the State at large may be elected at either a general or municipal election, as circumstances may require. All elections for judges of the courts for the several judicial districts and for county, city, ward, borough and township officers, for regular terms of service, shall be held on the municipal election day; namely, the Tuesday next following the first Monday of November in each odd-numbered year, but the General Assembly may by law fix a different day, two-thirds of all the members of each House consenting thereto. Provided, That such elections shall be held in an odd-numbered year. Provided further, That all judges for the courts of the several judicial districts holding office at the present time, whose terms of office may end in an odd-numbered year, shall continue to hold their offices until the first Monday of January in the next succeeding even-numbered year.

CHINESE SIGNBOARDS.

Poetic Gems to Attract Business to Shops In Peking.

W. Simpson in "Meeting the Sun" writes: "I saw in Peking a list of signboards, and a few samples of them will illustrate their general character: 'Shop of Heaven Sent Luck.' 'Shop of Celestial Principles.' 'The Nine Felicities Prolonged.' 'Mutton Shop of Morning Twilight.' 'The Ten Virtues All Complete.' 'Flowers Rise to the Milky Way.'

"In these signs we can see that the Chinese can combine the soul of a poet with the pocket of a shopman. Contrast such efforts with 'The Noted Eelpie House' of the London streets, and one must feel that we are outer barbarians. Carlyle quotes a Chinese signboard, 'No Cheating Here,' but I could not find anything like it in the list. 'Good and Just According to Heaven' ought to satisfy the ideal notions of the author of 'Sartor Resartus.'

"The Honest Pen Shop of Li" implies that other pen shops are not honest. The "Steel Shop of the Pockmarked Wang" suggests that any peculiarity of a shopman may be used to impress the memory of customers. Snub noses, squint eyes, lame legs and bump backs might all be used in this way.

A charcoal shop calls itself the "Fountain of Beauty," and a place for the sale of coal indulges in the title of "Heavenly Embroidery." An oil and wine establishment is the "Neighborhood of Chief Beauty," a description the realization of which it is hard to conceive anywhere in Peking. "The Thrice Righteous" one would scarcely expect from an opium shop.—London Globe.

WHERE SUCCESS IN FARMING IS SURE

Northern California Offers Unheard of Opportunities.

Agriculture and horticulture are making greater strides today than ever in the history of the world, and in the United States this is especially noted in the far western lands. California is attracting more attention than any part of the country because the even climate affords a much longer growing season than in the eastern states.

California is distinguished in more ways than one. She is first in production of gold, and also has first place in production of citrus fruits, deciduous fruits and fuel oil. It is the most wonderful mineral and agricultural state with resources almost beyond the comprehension of man. Its area is larger than New York, New Jersey, Rhode Island, Massachusetts, Vermont, New Hampshire, Connecticut, Maine and Ohio combined. Its valleys are very extensive, well watered and rich in productivity, and its capacity for pasturage is great enough to afford comfort and plenty to one-half the population of the United States.

Success in any enterprise is a much less difficult proposition in California than in other states where the summers are sunny, dry and the winters [illegible] tornadoes are unknown and there are no endemic diseases to menace the health. In the Sacramento valley, which is one of the richest areas of the world, the small investor in agricultural enterprise has an easy way to success and independence.

For ambitious men or women who have the frugal habit and have some capital at their command there is grand opportunity on the soil of the Sacramento valley in California. Farming here is a pleasanter occupation than it is in any other state in the Union.

Alfalfa, poultry, cattle and hogs bring profitable returns in the shortest period and they are always in demand. Fruit farming is one of the most interesting occupations known to man. Vines and trees properly treated will yield their owner a harvest well worth all the mental and physical energy he has expended on them.

While it is absolutely certain that success will attend the efforts of every energetic man who comes to the Sacramento valley to farm, provided he has determination, brains and some money, he will find the game much easier if he profits by the experience of men and women who came to the Sacramento valley during the past several years and made good. You may find it to your advantage to write to the secretary of the Kuhn farms in Northern California and ask all about the system that brought success. It will not only bring interesting information, but many people will be inspired perhaps to stimulate confidence in yourself and supply the necessary courage to seek fortune on the [illegible] shores of the Pacific. Address the Kuhn Irrigated Farms, [illegible] Fourth Ave., [illegible]

FINDING A PAWN TICKET

Sometimes It May Be Just Walking Into a Trap.

"While walking through one of the prominent streets the other day," said an innocent looking individual, "I espied an important looking piece of paper on the sidewalk and, picking it up, found it to be a pawn ticket for a diamond scarfpin which some careless person had apparently dropped.

"According to the ticket, the pin had been pledged several weeks before for $25. How am I to find the owner? thought I. Shall I take it to the pawnbroker? Perhaps if I do the owner will never see it, anyway. The pin must surely be a good one and doubtless worth three times the amount for which it was pledged. Why not appropriate it to my own use?

"The name on the ticket was Brown, and my conscience was relieved when I found several hundred of that name in the directory. I soon made up my mind and started for the broker's office. I asked to see the pin before redeeming it, stating that I had bought the ticket, and upon the payment of 25 cents was allowed to examine it.

"It looked all right to me, although I am not a qualified judge of diamonds, and I was about to leave the office with the pin in my possession when I thought I would try it on the glass. Sure enough, it cut a deep scratch, and the pin became mine.

"The next day I showed it to an expert, who declared it to be worth far less than the amount I had paid for it.

"It is the way of some people," he said, "to fool many persons like yourself. This scheme consists of issuing tickets for amounts many times in excess of their value and dropping them on the sidewalk in different parts of town where numerous persons might find them and redeem them, as you did, thus yielding a handsome profit to the person [illegible]"

Climate and the Color of Cities.

It is estimated by meteorologists that the heat produced constantly in the atmosphere by the combustion of carbon modifies little by little the climate of cities and surrounding districts. It is said that 19,000,000 tons of carbon is the average yearly weight burned in cities the size of London and New York. It is also pointed out that the color of cities is changed according to the amount of carbon burned. Confirmation of these facts is offered in historical description of cities. Paris being referred to by one historian of ancient times as a "city of red," while to this day certain Italian cities are described as "violet." Meteorologists prophesy that when our west is as thickly settled as central Europe our clear sweep of blue sky will be very materially modified.—Harper's.

He Aroused Them.

When Samuel S. Colher was preaching in an old log schoolhouse in Johnson county, Missouri, in 1852, his congregation was quite small. One Sunday all were sitting at the desks forward near the puncheon floor. The service was monotonous and the old log seats had no backs. Observing the sleepy, downcast look of the congregation, the minister woke them up by shouting, "Arouse, heaven is not under the floor!"

PRINTING Done by Printers. Printing is not a trade but an art as followed in the Mail Job Rooms. In matters bordering on art, as job work is done here, the question is not how cheap, but how good. The printed word or line should be more than a smear or a smudge.

We are completely equipped to do just what we say, having the newest and best type faces, up-to-date machinery and skilled workmen, and all orders are given careful attention, large or small. Our prices are reasonable, considering the quality of workmanship and material used.

(If you are not already a customer of the Mail a trial order will convince you of all we say. Call on us or call us by phone.)

WHY WOMEN SUFFER

Many Charleroi Women are Learning The Cure.

Women often suffer, not knowing the cause.

Backache, headache, dizziness, nervousness.

Irregular urinary passage, weakness, languor.

Each a seeming torture of itself.

Quickly give the help the kidneys need.

No remedy endorsed like Doan's Kidney Pills.

Endorsed at home.

Mrs William Urben, Sr., 736 Fallowfield avenue, Charleroi, Pa., says: "Some years ago I used Doan's Kidney Pills, procured at Piper Bros.' Drug Store and they cured me of an attack of kidney disease. I value this remedy highly, and do not hesitate to recommend it to other sufferers from kidney trouble."

Awful Ignorance.

Young Man With Lavender Tie, Pink Shirt and Bright Purple Socks—Say, Jim Lawrence is a queer duck. He pronounces his words so queer! The other day he was telling some girls about going to the Blank inn for a "tahbledote" dinner. As soon as we left the girls I asked him what he meant and come to find out he meant table de hotey! Ha, ha, ha!—Chicago Tribune.

Her Discourse.

"My dear," mildly expostulated her husband, "I said only half a dozen words and you have talked about them for forty-five minutes."

"Well," snapped Mrs. Tick-Senn, "the preacher does that sort of thing every Sunday morning and you never kick about it."—Chicago Tribune.

At Sixes and Sevens.

"I married my first husband for money and my second for love."

"Then you are very happy now, I suppose?"

"No. Alas, no! You see, my first husband married me for love and my second for money."

Consumption

Anyone interested in the treatment of Consumption should get one of the booklets telling of recoveries by the use of Eckman's Alterative. Coughs, Stubborn Colds and Pneumonia may be the beginning of more serious troubles—Eckman's Alterative is the effective remedy. Read Mr. Kanaly's statement:—

Saratoga, N. Y.

"Gentlemen: For five or six years I was troubled with cough and expectoration. I also had a high fever. My case was declared Consumption by my physician. I was given Cod Liver Oil, Creosote and other medicines, all without benefit.

"At Christmas time, 1906, I was not expected to live. Calling Dr. R. H. McCarthy, he advised the use of Eckman's Alterative, which I took with excellent results, and was entirely cured. I have gained in weight. I go out in all weathers and have had no cough or cold whatever. I give these facts to encourage others to use Eckman's Alterative."

(Sworn Affidavit) JAS. W. KANALY.

Eckman's Alterative is effective in Bronchitis, Asthma, Hay Fever, Throat and Lung Troubles, and in upbuilding the system. Does not contain poisons, opiates or habit-forming drugs. Ask for booklet telling of recoveries, and write to Eckman Laboratory, Philadelphia, Pa., for more evidence. For sale by all leading druggists settle disputable points and fix schedules. A real Progressive plank he introduced was that of considering each schedule of the tariff bill separately and fixing it separately in order to do away with political maneuvering among Senators and Representatives. A commision should be employed to look after the regulation of trusts, Dr. Temple argued, as a mode of public control.

In an interview Dr. Temple said: "I have been very much impressed with the prosperity of Charleroi and the natural advantages which you have from your location in one of the greatest industrial valleys of the world. The progressive spirit shown by your citizens as indicated by your various activities, is commendable. It is no wonder that your city is termed the Magic City of the Monongahela Valley. You, no doubt, are proud of your free institutions, as well as your industrial operations, your well equipped school buildings and the beautiful school house niw in process of construction, your most useful system of free navigation of the Monongahela which flows by your doors toward the Ohio and Mississippi Rivers.

"But it seems to me that, with all the blessings of these institutions, there is, at least, one very important thing yet to be desired—and that is free bridges to join you with your sister city of Monessen. I believe that your Representative in Congress and your members of the State Legislature should use their best endeavors to have all of the commercial bridges over the navigable streams made free of tolls. Toll bridges are as much out of date as toll gates on a public highway. If, for the purpose of [illegible] the owners of [illegible] ment have seen fit to make the locks free, I know of no reason why, for the purpose of commerce and the convenience of the people the bridges over navigable streams should not also be made free."
